ABOUT US

Where Our Story Begins

Every floor tells a story, and at Kirin Flooring, ours begins in the heart of Sri Lanka — an island celebrated for its natural beauty, resilience, and craftsmanship. From this vibrant setting, we set out to redefine how the world experiences flooring

The Legacy

Kirin Flooring draws its strength from the proud legacy of Anton, a pioneer in Sri Lanka's industrial landscape and a member of the St. Anthony's Industries Group, founded in 1944 by the visionary entrepreneur A. Y. S. Gnanam. For more than seven decades, Anton has shaped the nation's manufacturing history — introducing world-class innovations in PVC and uPVC products, setting industry benchmarks for quality and trust. This spirit of innovation and integrity flows naturally into Kirin Flooring, guiding how we design, manufacture, and deliver excellence. Every plank we produce carries forward the same heritage of craftsmanship and reliability that made Anton a household name. From this foundation, Kirin continues the story — building a future where Sri Lankan innovation meets global standards in flooring.

Every product is made with care, responsibility, and respect for the world we share.

Crafted with Vision

Kirin Flooring was born from the idea of blending innovation with authenticity. Inspired by the strength of stone and the warmth of timber, we create SPC flooring that combines timeless beauty with modern performance.

What began as a vision has grown into a state-of-the-art manufacturing facility, where precision meets passion. Every plank reflects our team's dedication to quality, durability, and design excellence.

Commitment to Excellence

At the heart of Kirin Flooring lies a dual promise: to people and to the planet.

Our customers can trust that every product is made with care, responsibility, and respect for the world we share.

Looking Ahead

Our ambition is to carry the Sri Lankan Heritage to the world, through flooring that embodies design, durability, and integrity.

Kirin Flooring is not just a manufacturer. We are storytellers, innovators, and partners, creating surfaces that connect tradition with modern living — and Sri Lanka with the world.

WHAT IS SPC

Strength in Every Layer

SPC — or Stone Polymer Composite — is an advanced flooring technology that combines the natural beauty of wood with the engineered strength of stone. Built from multiple layers fused under high pressure, SPC floors deliver exceptional stability, resilience, and comfort underfoot.

Designed for Modern Living

At its core lies a rigid limestone composite layer, which makes SPC flooring dimensional stable and impact resistant, even in environments with freequent humidity or temperature changes. This makes it ideal for homes, offices, and commercial interiors where performance and style must coexist.

Beauty Meets Innovation

SPC flooring captures the authentic texture of timber through high-definition printing and EIR (Embossedin-Register) surface technology. The result is a floor that not only looks like real wood but feels like it — with subtle grain patterns, natural color variation, and a refined matte finish.

Practical. Durable. Sustainable.

Waterproof, easy to install, and simple to maintain, SPC is built for everyday life without compromise. Kirin Flooring enhances this technology with eco-friendly production practices, ensuring that every floor reflects our dedication to sustainability, comfort, and lasting design value.

SPC FLOORING INSTALLATION

Effortless Installation — Uniclic® Locking System

Kirin SPC flooring features the innovative Uniclic® locking system, engineered for precision and simplicity.

Each plank clicks firmly into place — no glue, nails, or specialist tools required — making installation fast, clean, and reliable.

STEP 1

Prepare the Surface

Ensure the floor base is level, dry, and free from dust or debris. Use spacers to maintain a small expansion gap around walls and fixed objects.

STEP 2

Lay the First Row

Begin along the longest wall with the tongue side facing outward. Align the planks carefully to keep the first row perfectly straight.

STEP 3

Click, Lock & Align

Angle the next plank into the previous one and press down until it clicks securely. Continue row by row — the Uniclic® system guarantees a tight, seamless fit with no lifting or gaps.

STEP 4

Finish with Care

Install skirting or trims to cover expansion gaps. Your Kirin SPC floor is ready for immediate use — durable, waterproof, and built to last.
